TRANSLATED INSPECTION REPORT OF LATEST CONDITION SHEET

Note: the actual auction condition sheet image was not provided — the photo supplied is an exterior shot of the car (a 2022 Honda ZR-V 4WD e:HEV Z in grey), so there are no handwritten inspector notes or diagram panel codes available to translate. From the structured data, the most important fact is the authoritative overall auction grade of 'R', which means this car has ACCIDENT-REPAIR HISTORY — it has been damaged and repaired at some point. Buyer warning: treat the 'R' grade seriously and request the full original condition sheet and the inspector's repair notes/diagram before purchase, as the supplied image does not show the inspection map, the exterior (外装) and interior (内装) sub-grades, or any panel damage codes. No panel codes were listed in the data. Regarding mileage, a rollback has been flagged: readings move between roughly 44,277 km and 45,000 km across records, so the highest recorded figure (the floor) of 45,000 km is the lowest the true mileage can be.

AI-assisted translation of the original Japanese inspection record — the condition sheet remains the authoritative document.
